SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

This is the last day upon which those who have allowed their registrations to elapse to re-register for the special election in November when some decidedly important issues will be settled. If you are not sure whether you are qualified to vote, by all means take time out right now and above all be ready to cast your ballot when election time arrives.

Regardless of warnings, good highways, near-perfect equipment and continued horrible examples, automobile accidents are still one of our most prevalent evils. While many wrecks are classified as "unavoidable," we sincerely doubt the word and firmly believe that carelessness, violation of the laws or neglect to adhere to the courtesies of the road are responsible for the major portion of accidents. Five or six people were hurt only yesterday on a fine piece of road which has been the scene of fatal accidents. It is difficult to place the blame and yet little excuse can be found for the near fatal collision.

While we are convinced that more and more Truckee shoppers are finding it profitable to trade at home we are equally certain that there are still a large number who are seeking bargains in other centers. These so-called bargains often prove to be anything but bargains and while it is doubtful that the purchaser will ever admit the fact, he can do better right here in Truckee. It will pay you to look around the local stores, maek comparisons in price and quality and then forget community pride and let your economic judgment decide. You will find that you can do as well right here and what a lot a satisfaction there is in knowing that by patronizing your neighbor you are not alone benefitting yourself and the merchant but your community as well.

Recently a Sierra ski division for schools in the mountains was formed at Reno with Truckee being well represented. This is one of the most essential programs that has been designed for many months and we trust that it will do a lot toward promoting a better school spirit among the students and add to their recreational enjoyment. We surely need more school spirit and this can only be had by providing student body activities where competition is invited.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John Titus who this week observed their 65th wedding anniversary. To attain the ages which they have and still fulfill their places in a busy community is worthy of honorable mention, but to have lived in married harmony for 65 years is a feat that probably defies comparison and sets a mark for younger couples to aim for.

Several Hurt As Cars Crash On Boca Road

Two Women Go To Hospice With Serious Hurts From Wreck

CARS STRIKE HEADON

Four Cars Involved In Second Collision Near Summit

Two people were seriously injured and several others suffered minor hurts when two cars collided headon on the highway near Boca early yesterday.

Most seriously injured were Mrs. M. G. Ferreira of New Castle and her daughter, Miss Evelyn Ferreira who were rushed to the Nevada County hospital following treatment here by Dr. J. H. Bernard, who said the injuries may prove serious.

The mishap occurred, according to State Patrolman A. C. Barrick, who investigated, when a car driven west by V. B. Bennett, representative of a Sacramento trucking concern at 211 N. 16th street, went on the wrong side of the highway on the blind curve at Boca to avoid striking the rear end of an old machine driven by L. N. Williams of San Rafael, who was accompanied by V. G. Walton also of San Rafael. A third car, operated by Manuel J. Silva of New Castle, traveling east, collided headon with the Bennett machine, badly wrecking both cars and injuring the occupants.

Bennett, traveling alone, escaped with minor injuries which did not necessitate treatment. All the occupants of the Silva car, including Mr. and Mrs. Silva and Mr. and Mrs. Ferreira and their daughter were treated for bad injuries.

Bennett said the Williams car nearly stopped and he was forced to either strike the rear of the car or take a chance on turning out, which nearly proved a fatal chance.

Four Cars Wrecked

A four-car collision near the Yuba Pass bridge this week, resulted in the machines all being badly damaged but fortunately all involved occupants escaped injuries. Wet pavement was blamed for the pileup.

A banner will be awarded each week to the school having the largest attendance and at the close of the contest it will become the property of the school winning the contest. The fact that the pastor of the Sparks church, Rev. P. H. Willis was formerly pastor of the local church, will add interest to the contest. Some features of special interest are being prepared for the serivce Sunday morning.

TWO NEW LAWS ON SALES MUST GIVE PUBLIC NOTICES

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 28.— Two new laws which became effective September 19, will have far reaching effect in correcting practices by which unscrupulous business operators have profited largely.

Of prime importance to those who have lost their property through tax delinquencies is AB 1954 which requires the publication of three notices before tax-deeded properties may be sold.

Under the law, which amends section 3897 of the political code, it is mandatory to advertise in a newspaper of general circulation in the township where the property is located three notices of the proposed sale.

The second law will give creditors a protection they long have sought in respect to bulk sales. Under the new law, AB 48, amending section 3440 of the civil code, notice of intention to sell or chattell mortgage stock in trade, in bulk, or a substantual part thereof, other than in the ordinary course of trade will require publication of a notice of such transaction.

At least seven days before the sale, transfer, assignment or mortgage of such property, a notice will have to be recorded with the county recorder in the county or counties in which the property is located. Subsequently, not less than two days before the transaction, a formal notice must be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the township where the property is located.

The object of the law is to protect creditors.

Prisoners of Nevada county will have their pictures taken with modern protographic equipment which has been installed in the office of Sheriff Carl Tobiassen. Deputy Sheriff Fred Williford, formerly of Grass Valley police department, will be in charge of the addition.

FOREIGN TRADE

So greatly has the scond chapter of the World War disturbed normal relations between countries that our trade agreement with various nations already seems slightly unique Just what is going to happen to international trade, remains to be seen. Of course, Secretary of State Hull, the father of reduction protection by mutual trade agreement, says that he is not discouraged, yet even he seems to be of the opinion that at present the most which can be done it to salvage some of the foundation for future peace-time building.

Over in Europe the fight for markets and supplies is only secondary in savageness to the fight on the field of battle. The small nations of southeastern Europe are already being tempted by British gold on the one hand and threatened by German retaliation on the other, if they sell to one of the conflicting sides. Just what this means at this time nobody can foretell, yet if the war continues long, more nations will probably be drawn into the struggle because their supplies of raw materials are needed.

But, it may well be asked, what about the United States? After all, we are more interested in our own country than those across the seas. Already prices of grains and other commodities over here are rising. Does this mean a return of prosperity for the American farmer, or does it presage a boom, to be followed by a collapse, like the one in 1921, from which we have not yet fully recovered? Only the future can foretell.

Now is the best time on earth for the United States to remain neutral and build up its own defenses, economic as well as military. Let us prepare to look after our own markets. The war will not last forever. There is no assurance that it will last three years. Sooner or later peace will come again and when that time arrives, foreign nations are going to make a concerted attack on our markets because they will represent about the only markets worth having.

When that time comes we want to be prepared to look after Uncle Sam's produces first, in the mill and on the farm. And speaking of farms, trade treaties like the one proposed with Argentine are going to make us especially susceptible to foreign competition when the armies of Europe stop fighting. Now is the time to look forward to what may happen later.

WHERE ARE THEY?

A Legion Convention 25 Years from Now

(WNU SERVICE)

The American Legion's 21st Convention in session in Chicago—News item

Politically Speaking

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 28.— (UP)— Officials of the state department of motor vehicles have come to the bitter conclusion that it is much easier to talk about economy in government than to actually make cuts in state expenditures.

The rub is that no matter where you draw up the purse strings you step on somebody's toes, and when the chamber of commerce and the civic clubs back home begin to holler their pet project usually gets put back in the budget.

The motor vehicles officials, in the first place, had one of the toughest economy assignments passed out by the recent legislative session, with budget estimates reduced by a total of $800,000 a year. And seemingly every plan that was pulled out of the hat was pounced on by interests which would be effected as a "curtailment of essential state functions."

Just incidentally, there were some impolite suggestions from critics of the Olson administration that the motor vehicle budget cuts were planned with the express purpose of creating the most possible public reaction against budget cuts.

Significantly, the department announced decisions to close a total of 25 offices of varous kinds in cities throughout the state—many of them amounting to little more than a drop in the financial budget.

But whatever the motive, the outcome was that most of the units for which civic battles were waged have now been ordered back into operation.

Another major plank in the motor vehicles economy program involved a proposed saving of $110,000 through having California motorists compute their own "in lieu" tax charges, in place of having the figures prepared by the department and mailed to automobile owners on individual postcards.

There would be simple charts posted around the state showing the tax charges of each make, model and year of all automobiles. But after weeks of discussion the whole plan collapsed.

Director Howard Philbrick explained it "became apparent that because of legal questions involved and lack of time in which to educate the motoring public it would be inadvisable this year." He expressed the hope that something could be worked out along that line for 1941.

Son the weary department heads must look aroung for something new to save a few hundred thousand additional dollars—and this time theyr'e out after something that won't be noticed by the chambers of commerce.

Apparently there is to be a grand jury investigation into whether Warden Clyde Plummer is acting too much like a Santa Claus to the toughies in Folsom prison.

It all came about when the state board of prison directors charged that a special committee named by Governor Olson to probe conditions at Folsom prison was engaging in "politics."

This was hardly a surprising observation, since it was understood at the time the governor's committee was named that the admnistration greatly desired Plummer's removal.

A. R. O'Brien, chairman of the prison board, suggested that instead of the administration's probe, matters at Folsom—and at San Quentin prison as well—be investigated by county grand juries.

Municipal Judge Twain Michelsen of San Francisco, chairman of the governor's committee, charged O'Brien with making a political gesture himself, but nevertheless the suggestion clicked with publicity minded District Attorney Otis Babcock of Sacramento county, who conferred with officials of Marin county where San Quintin is located, on the subject of a simultaneous study of prison conditions at the two institutions.

Assemblman Joseph P. Gilmore of San Francisco, author of the legislative resolution creating the special investigating committee jumped into the fray to reiterate his original charges that dangerous inmates of Folsom are being assigned to soft jobs and that the prisoners are allowed to purchase anything they desire except narcotics ,liquor and firearms.

He commented that it "looks like O'Brien is getting worried."

INCREASED ACTIVITIES IN FAR WEST BUSINESS IS NOTED IN BANK REPORT

Manager Yell Nobles of the Bank of America here, announces that increased activity in many lines of business in California and the far west are noted in the bank's business review for August, just released.

Gains were noted in carloadings, power production, home building, retail trade, shipbuilding and tourist travel.

Value of building permits for all types of construction issued in 32 principal California cities during the month amounted to $15,504,893, a gain of 2.3 per cent over July. Permits for home building in 11 major California communities were valued at $7,921,000 for August, an increase of 21.4 per cent over July.

EXTENTION OF STATE'S NATIONAL GUARD ORDERED

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 28.— (UP)— Ramifications of the European war extended to California this week with a scheduled expansion of national guard personnel to 10,000 officers and men.

The increase in the state's quota set by the U. S. War Department, is 1985 enlisted men, Adjutant General Patrick J. H. Farrell reported. The expansion will be made by filling out exsting units rather than by formation of any new regiments.

Farrell said that many companies and at least one regiment now function on a skeleton basis and recruitment up to full strength will meet the set quota.

INDEPENDENT STORES IN STATE SHOW NICE GAINS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 28— (UP)—Sales of independent retail stores in California boomed during August to chalk up a 4.7 per cent gain over the same month a year ago and a 8.9 per cent gain over July of this year ,the U. S. bureau of the census reported.

Bay region stores benefited from the boom, the report stated, with Oakland sales rising 13 per cent over a year ago and San Francisco 8.9 per cent. Los Angeles gains were about three per cent the report stated.

In types of establishments, motor vehicle dealers led in the gains over August of 1938 with a 16.8 per cent gain, followed by restaurants with 10.4 per cent.

Jay Gould Offered Proof

In the 1880s Jay Gould, the American financier, scotched a malicious rumor that he was bankrupt, says Collier's Weekly, by inviting reporters from every New York newspaper to inspect his safe, containing $75,000,000 worth of stocks and bonds, all of which actually belonged to him, as later proved by the execution of his will.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Traveling Around America

ENROUTE TO BE INSULTED

THESE young Quechua Indians were snapped enroute to a wedding festival in a neighboring village in the Andean Altiplano. The Andean Altiplano, a plateau in the clouds, is located in the highlands of Bolivia and Peru—two of the most colorful republics of South America, popular with American voyagers taking the weekly cruises down the west coast of South America.

In the Altiplano live the descendants of the Incas, living their lives in much the same manner as did their ancestors centuries before the discovery of the New World. One of their most interesting customs is the annual marriage ceremony, celebrated in its purely Incaic form in the more remote villages of the highlands. At the time of the festival the Indians come to the chosen village from nearby farms and smaller villages. The celebration, lasting six days, is communal in spirit with a great deal of singing and dancing, and much drinking of the native "Chicha." By the end of the festival as many as three or four hundred couples have been married. But the most intriguing part of the ceremony from our modern point of view is the unique privilege bestowed on the women. During the six days of celebrations the women have the right and duty to insult the men to their heart's content. They do this in song and prose. The rest of the year, however, the women have to be very obedient—and quiet.

The "poor wise man"

ONCE, LONG AGO, "there was a little city," which was besieged by a great king, and in this city there dwelt a "poor wise man" who by his wisdom delivered the city. So we are told by the writer of Ecclesiastes, who further declares that "the words of wise men are heard in quiet more than the cry of him that ruleth among fools," and, also, that "wisdom is better than weapons of war" (Ecclesiastes 9:14, 15, 17, 18). The latter statement is echoed today by spiritual thinkers in many lands, and wiser ways of handling world problems are being sought. It is increasingly evident that many are recognizing the futility of war as a means of settling national or international problems.

The teachings of Christianity have always been opposed to war, and yet in the long centuries since Christ Jesus preached the gospel of peace on earth and good will to men, there has been unceasing warfare. The ages have advanced slowly in the apprehension and demonstration of spiritual truth. It took many long years of education and enlightenment before the practice of slavery was abolished in civilized countries. To abolish the barbarism of war demands the united effort of all who are interested in the progress of civilization.

War is pagan, uncivilized, idolatrous. Peace is Godlike, spiritual, and, in the best sense, civilized. Centuries ago, the prophet Micah proclaimed the coming of the true peace to the world when he said of God (Micah 4:3), "He shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more." This ideal of peace between nations and peoples can be realized as the individuals who comprise them gain a more correct sense of God and man, and a demonstrable understanding of the omnipotence of God, good.

There is no doubt that the way of righteous conciliation is one that requires great wisdom, not only in international affairs but also in the affairs of individuals. False beliefs of greed, competition, jealousy, domination, and racial prejudice are some of the causes of war, and these beliefs must be overcome in individual and collective consciousness. The Apostle James, in his wise epistle, writes (1:5), "If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him;" and he further defines divine wisdom thus (3:17): "The wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy."

There is a sharp distinction between divine wisdom and the ways and means of worldly wisdom. A characteristic of true wisdom is that it is unselfed; it desires the good of all mankind. It is compassionate, tolerant, and forgiving. In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy writes (p. 275), "No wisdom is wise but His wisdom; no truth is true, no love is lovely, no life is Life but the divine; no good is, but the good God bestows." To desire this divine wisdom, and to seek it diligently, not only enriches our lives but enables us to work out our human problems.

To seek and find divine wisdom, one must be willing to give up self-importance, self-love, and intellectual pride, and learn to be humble. There is no task so important to one's spiritual welfare as the pursuit of divine wisdom. . . .

Our greatest need is to learn to pray the Christianly scientific prayer that acknowledges the supremacy of God, good, and the consequent nothingness of evil. This prayer of affirmation enables us to know that nothing can hinder the right way, the wise way, from being revealed to us, now, to meet the present need. A constant reminder of spiritual reality is the "Daily Prayer" from the Manual of The Mother Church (Art. VIII, Sect. 4) by Mrs. Eddy: "'Thy kingdom come;' let the reign of divine Truth, Life, and Love be established in me, and rule out of me all sin; and may Thy Word enrich the affections of all mankind, and govern them!"—The Christian Science Monitor.

WARNING ON DANGERS OF HAM AND EGGS PLAN IS MADE BY FORMER OFFICIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.— In a statement especially directed at citizens who are apathetic towrad the 30-Thursday plan, either because they have jumped to the conclusion that it will be held unconstitutional if passofeel that it carries the seeds of its own destruction, former Attorney General U. S. Webb bluntly warned that such optimism is both unwarranted and dangerous. He said:

"The 'Ham and Eggs' plan could not be attacked n the state courts at all. The only recourse would be the feredal courts, and they could pass only upon the single issue of whether the 30-Thursday warrants were mediums of exchange in conflict with those set up in the federal constitution.

"Even if the federal courts struck out the 'warrants' California would still have embodied in its organic law all other features of the amendment, including the 3 per cent gross income tax, the Credit Clearing Bank established with $20,000,000 of state funds, and the dictorial control over the whole setup by the promoters of the sheme.

"While there are many provisions in the proposed amendment in direct conflict with the state constitution as it stands, the 'Ham and Egg' act carries within itself provisions repealing every such existing conflict. It also specifically precludes any state court interference.

"Many citizens think active opposition to the proposal is not necessary because it will eventually fall of its own weight," Webb, who is chairman of the state-wide citizens committee opposing the amendment.

"I agree with the view—but it will fall only when California has been wrecked and the damage has all been done. To clear the wreckage will require another constitutional amendment, which would take years.

"Opposition to the amendment carries no condemnation of those who sincerely believe in it. They are misled by promoters. It is important to point out the illusions in the plan and its destructive effect upon the economics and life of this state."

Colors Not New With Season

The beautiful colors of autumn foliage are not new at that season, but are there all the time. Leaves have three chief pigments—green, yellow and orange. The most abundant color is green, which dominates and obscures the other tints during the summer. Autumn weather causes the green pigment to disappear, leaving the others.

SIXTH ASSEMBLY DISTRICT WINS RECOGNITION ON TWO IMPORTANT STATE BOARDS

The Sixth Assembly District, according to Assemblyman Allen G. Thurman of Colfax, has been given recognition by Governor Olson on two recent appointments on state boards, the fish and game commission and the state board of forestry. It was Thurman who suggested several months ago that sportsmen's clubs and civic organizations urge Governor Olson to appoint representatives from this district on the state fish and game commission. The local assemblyman also secured the assistance of Senators Brown, Mayo, Pierovich and Seawell in bringing the matter to the attention of the governor.

In the appointment of Nate Miller of Mono county to the state fish and game commission last week, Thurman sees his hopes realized.

Another recent appointment of interest to the district was that of Charles Jones, editor of the Sonora Banner to the state board of forestry.

NORDEN

By C. W. Kramer

The light fall of rain for several days has greatly relieved the serious fire hazards of the forest in this region and has alleviated water shortage for the time being. Sheepmen of this vicinty are jubilant and report feed will be replenished for the fall as well as the dust being settled and start streams that were dry as a result of the light snowfall last winter.

Deer hunters are more plentiful in this region than for several seasons with those bagging their reward still under percentage for their efforts. Those most recently successful were Demps Hensley of Tunnel Six while W. McKeever of Norden and Harry Sylvester bagged forked horns within five minutes from the main Southern Pacific line.

Okla Hensley visited with his family in Norden over the weekend having come from Santa Barbara where he is now located.

After a month at the New York and San Francisco fairs, Jim Leung, congenial and smiling chef of the upper eating car at Emigrant Gap has returned to his usual place of business reporting a fine and interesting vacation..

Absent from this section for some time, Arthur Stiegler of Sacramento visited friends and fellow workers in this vicinity.

Harold and Mrs. Boomer of North Sacramento drove up Monday morning reporting a misty rain en route.

The home of George Backarich of Tunnel Six is taking on form and will soon be completed as will the home of Frank Slater in the district

Mrs. Wayne Libbee has moved to Norden to join her husband who is employed at Tunnel Six.

The Sugar Bowl Corporation is making rapid progress on the hotel and ski pull, many men having been added to the pay roll.

Mrs. Frank Rector and family of Auburn spent the weekend at Norden returning for school on Monday.

BETTER HEATING OILS DEVELOPED THROUGH SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

Manufacturers of oil furnaces and heaters often bring their problems to the Shell Oil Burner Testing Laboratory. Here, in the largest laboratory of its kind, Shell heating engineers search for ways to make oil heat better, lower in cost.

Due to years of scientific research, there's now a perfected Shell Heating Oil for every type of burner. Each is a distilled oil, free of sediment and water. Each Shell fuel ignites instantly, vaporizes completely, and burns with a hot, practically soot-free flame.

INDEPENDENT STORES IN STATE SHOW NICE GAINS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 28— (UP)—Sales of independent retail stores in California boomed during August to chalk up a 4.7 per cent gain over the same month a year ago and a 8.9 per cent gain over July of this year ,the U. S. bureau of the census reported.

Bay region stores benefited from the boom, the report stated, with Oakland sales rising 13 per cent over a year ago and San Francisco 8.9 per cent. Los Angeles gains were about three per cent the report stated.

Jay Gould Offered Proof

In the 1880s Jay Gould, the American financier, scotched a malicious rumor that he was bankrupt, says Collier's Weekly, by inviting reporters from every New York newspaper to inspect his safe, containing $75,000,000 worth of stocks and bonds, all of which actually belonged to him, as later proved by the execution of his will.

In types of establishments, motor vehicle dealers led in the gains over August of 1938 with a 16.8 per cent gain, followed by restaurants with 10.4 per cent.

Traveling Around America

ENROUTE TO BE INSULTED

THESE young Quechua Indians were snapped enroute to a wedding festival in a neighboring village in the Andean Altiplano. The Andean Altiplano, a plateau in the clouds, is located in the highlands of Bolivia and Peru—two of the most colorful republics of South America, popular with American voyagers taking the weekly cruises down the west coast of South America.

In the Altiplano live the descendants of the Incas, living their lives in much the same manner as did their ancestors centuries before the discovery of the New World. One of their most interesting customs is the annual marriage ceremony, celebrated in its purely Incaic form in the more remote villages of the highlands. At the time of the festival the Indians come to the chosen village from nearby farms and smaller villages. The celebration, lasting six days, is communal in spirit with a great deal of singing and dancing, and much drinking of the native "Chicha." By the end of the festival as many as three or four hundred couples have been married. But the most intriguing part of the ceremony from our modern point of view is the unique privilege bestowed on the women. During the six days of celebrations the women have the right and duty to insult the men to their heart's content. They do this in song and prose. The rest of the year, however, the women have to be very obedient—and quiet.

NORDEN

By C. W. Kramer

The light fall of rain for several days has greatly relieved the serious fire hazards of the forest in this region and has alleviated water shortage for the time being. Sheepmen of this vicinty are jubilant and report feed will be replenished for the fall as well as the dust being settled and start streams that were dry as a result of the light snowfall last winter.

Deer hunters are more plentiful in this region than for several seasons with those bagging their reward still under percentage for their efforts. Those most recently successful were Demps Hensley of Tunnel Six while W. McKeever of Norden and Harry Sylvester bagged forked horns within five minutes from the main Southern Pacific line.

Okla Hensley visited with his family in Norden over the weekend having come from Santa Barbara where he is now located.

After a month at the New York and San Francisco fairs, Jim Leung, congenial and smiling chef of the upper eating car at Emigrant Gap has returned to his usual place of business reporting a fine and interesting vacation..

Absent from this section for some time, Arthur Stiegler of Sacramento visited friends and fellow workers in this vicinity.

Harold and Mrs. Boomer of North Sacramento drove up Monday morning reporting a misty rain en route.

The home of George Backarich of Tunnel Six is taking on form and will soon be completed as will the home of Frank Slater in the district

Mrs. Wayne Libbee has moved to Norden to join her husband who is employed at Tunnel Six.

The Sugar Bowl Corporation is making rapid progress on the hotel and ski pull, many men having been added to the pay roll.

Mrs. Frank Rector and family of Auburn spent the weekend at Norden returning for school on Monday.

DELIGHTED BECAUSE NEW OIL HEATER DOESN'T SMELL

BETTER HEATING OILS DEVELOPED THROUGH SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

Manufacturers of oil furnaces and heaters often bring their problems to the Shell Oil Burner Testing Laboratory. Here, in the largest laboratory of its kind, Shell heating engineers search for ways to make oil heat better, lower in cost.

Due to years of scientific research, there's now a perfected Shell Heating Oil for every type of burner. Each is a distilled oil, free of sediment and water. Each Shell fuel ignites instantly, vaporizes completely, and burns with a hot, practically soot-free flame.
